Card of Thanks to Dr Chong.
AFTER BEING TREATED FIVE MONTHS by a white doctor, and spending nearly $300, I was worse than when I first went to him. I had quite despaired of being relieved when I read Dr Chong's card in THE COLONIST. I placed myself under his care and in NINE DAYS I was a well man. I write this card to discharge a debt of gratitude I owe to Dr Chong, which charge, I may also say, was reasonable. My complaint was neuralgia. WILLIAM MCCORMICK.

DR. BARNARD HAS HAD FOR several months the "Perkins Hyatt" or "Celluloid Base," the newest and latest material adapted to the mounting of whole sets of teeth; he is also using "Whalebone-Rubber," which is rapidly supplanting, for single dentures or partial sets, the best vulcanites of the last 25 years.
We cheerfully ada Dr. B's Card to our columns, convinced that his good taste and judgment, united to natural skill and ingenuity, aided by an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, render his services more valuable and reliable than those of any other Dentist on the Sound, Coast or Island.
Dr. B's large experience may be readily seen in the happy and natural expression given his patrons by his life-like insertion of artificial Teeth.
The public may rest assured of patience, gentleness and undivided attention while under the Dr's hands, and that he will ever strive to be foremost in adopting helps and hints touching his own interest and that of his patrons.

THE BRITISH COLONIST.

Tuesday Morning, June 4, 1872.

Federal Parties—Our Duty.

British Columbia being now an integral part of the Dominion of Canada, it has become the duty and the interest of our people to make themselves acquainted with Federal politics and parties, to the end that they may be qualified intelligently to act their part in managing the affairs of the Dominion;—for it is one of the glories of the system that every individual member of the Confederated Empire is called upon to do his particular part. A hasty glance at Federal politics and parties since the union of the four Charter Provinces may not be considered out of place, now that British Columbia is about to be called upon for the first time to engage in a general Federal election. The first time, because, although she has passed through one Federal election, it was not what is understood by a 'general' election, but merely to be represented at the last session of an expiring Parliament. Like all countries enjoying Responsible Government, the political parties of Canada may be briefly designated as the 'ins' and the 'outs'; yet, unlike most countries so governed, party government, in the strict and proper sense of the term, has not been carried out in Canada since Confederation. The principle upon which Canada has been governed during these five years is that of 'Coalition'—a sinking of mere party lines and a coming together of parties for one common and patriotic object which leads good men to rise above party,—and leaves bad ones? In order to accomplish Confederation in the first instance there was a coming together of the great party leaders. At that period the country was divided into two political parties called the Conservatives, led by Sir John A. Macdonald, and the Reformers, led by the Hon. George Brown; and when Sir John and Mr Brown came together and formed the memorable Coalition Government of 1866, for the purpose of carrying the great Confederation scheme into effect, it was said that a political millennium had come and that the lion and the lamb had lain down together. But the lion and the lamb did'nt lie together long. Mr Brown's intensely partizan spirit and extreme political sentiments appear to have completely swamped his patriotism, and before the scheme which had drawn parties together was matured he flew off at a tangent, leaving Sir John and those associated with him to work out the great scheme of empire as best they could. But Mr Brown was not content with deserting the ship of State. He was not long in organizing and heading (not in Parliament, for he failed to get a seat, but in the columns of his Globe) a piratical band called 'Grits,' for the purpose of placing torpedoes in the way of the good ship. Happily for the cause and the country, there were Reform leaders made of different stuff—men who stood faithfully by the cause and had the satisfaction of seeing it safely moored in the haven of Confederation. Mr Brown left the Coalition, but he did not break it up. It could get on without him. Nor did he succeed in alienating the great heart of the Reform party from the cause and the Government. He succeeded, however, in drawing around him a few discontented and extreme men, such as Mr Mackenzie and Mr Blake, and now, at the end of five years, the 'Grit' faction has grown by receiving into its ranks the discontented and dissappointed extremists from all quarters, until now it has attained such dimensions as may perhaps entitle it to be dignified by the term 'party.' And such a party! A heterogeneous mass of restless and incompatible spirits, with no sentiment in common, save only a determination to grasp the 'money-bags.' The 'Grits' will chiefly be remembered by Pacific Britons as having made a desperate effort to defeat the scheme for the admission of British Columbia and the construction of the inter-oceanic railway. Their very last act has been to fight the Railway Bill inch by inch, leaving no stone unturned to defeat the only scheme capable of making Confederation a complete success. But, thank heaven! they have failed in the second, as they failed in the first. They tried to obstruct the westward course of Empire, and have been crushed by it. The party is less powerful to-day than it was a year ago. They have opposed every great and patriotic measure, and they have, as was fitting they should, lost ground before the country. Such are the two political parties before the country—the Government party comprising the best men from the old Conservative and Reform ranks, and which has given abundant evidence of capacity to govern; the Grits, comprising extreme and impossible politicians of every conceivable stripe—men drawn together not by love but by hate. It is to choose between these two parties that the country is now called to the polls. Can the result be doubtful? Can the duty of British Columbians be doubtful? Last year they were called upon to choose men to represent them for but one session. Now it is for the full Parliamentary term of five years. It was important last year to send to Ottawa only those who would support the present Government. It will be more important that they should be guided by these considerations in their choice this year. The country cannot afford to be governed by the Grits just yet. It is true that the Dominion is now washed by both oceans. It is true that the Treaty of Washington and the Railway Bill have both been carried. But the railway has yet to be built; and we know that the 'Grits' would stick it at Manitoba. Let British Columbians rally to the support of the Government which has conceived and and carried all these great measures—the only Government with the capacity to bring to a successful conclusion the great work of empire. In order to do this let every man see that his name is on the revised Voters' List. Less than a week now remains in which to do this. After Monday it will be too late. That man will be little better than a traitor to his country who will neglect his duty in this matter.

The End of the Arbitration.

There would appear to be no longer reason to doubt that the Treaty of Washington is dead. How many bright hopes and great national expectations must die with it. Who is to blame for this unhappy result? It is impossible altogether to exonerate our own nation, when a little more definiteness in the wording of the Treaty would have averted all this trouble and great misfortune. But that the great burden of responsibility and all the guilt rests with the United States scarcely appears to be open to question. The course pursued by Great Britain was honest, if it was simple, That of the other party was the sharp practice and double dealing which becomes a petty-fogging lawyer rather than a great nation. The American Government can not be justified at the bar of public opinion for insisting upon a class of claims never contemplated by the Treaty and frankly admitted by the American people to be wholly inadmissible. Great Britain has gone as far as it was possible to go without dishonor in order to secure a peaceful settlement and the establishment of friendly relations. Twice has she done this, and twice has the other party accepted the responsibility of defeating that object. There wes a time when the Alabama Claims might have been made a pretext for war, but that time has passed. America has thrown that card away. The moral sentiment of the nations would not now justify such a step, whatever it might have done before. It will now remain for the United States to renew negotiations. Great Britain can afford to fall back on her dignity, in the full consciousness of having done her duty.

Passage of the Railway Bill.

The telegraph announces the passage of the Canadian Pacific Railway Bill on the 1st inst. The struggle must have been more severe and protracted than we had anticipated. We are left in the dark as to the majority by which the measure was carried, so that our readers must be content, for the present at least, with knowing that it did pass. And, although confidently anticipating the safe passage of this measure, especially after the passage of the Treaty Bill, the news is a fitting subject for congratulation; and we congratulate the people at large and the people of the Pacific Province in particular upon this result. Thus one victory after another is won. Step by step the great work of empire goes forward, until now there are very few ifs left between us and the realization of those anticipations for enunciating which we were characterised as fanatics and fools two or three years ago.—The Railway Bill has passed! Three cheers more for Sir John and his confres!!

When Jamie Comes Hame.

Ye breezes blaw saft as the coo o' the dove,
Waft gently hame the ship that brings me my love;
The joy of my heart brings the tear to my e'e,
For I trust ye'll blaw safely my laddie to me.
We'll hae crackin o' thumbs when young Jamie comes hame!
Some eating seor plums when my Jamie comes hame;
An' seats will be shiftin', and bonnets be liftin',
When up the Clyde driftin' my Jamie comes hame.

"An how's my jo Janet?" I ken what he'll say,
An' syne tak' my han' in his sin kindly way;
Sae douce aye afore folk, nae ane will can tell
The tousiin' I'll get when we're le . by ourscl.
I ken wha'll get married when Jamie comes hame!
Folk say my head's carried at his coming hame;
'Tween out-in' an' in-in', an' here an' there rinnin',
It really is spinnin', at his comin' hame.

The parish is ringin' wi' what I will wear,
An' spite has an answer to a' that do speer;
"Some cheap trash o' muslin, at sax pence the ell.
An' if a thocht yellow, the liker herscl'."
A pose I've a hidden' till Jamie comes hame!
My time I'm a bidin' till Jamie comes hame!
Then a silk gown o' green, wi' a skinkin sheen,
Will dazzle their een when my Jamie comes hame!

WILLIAM MILLER.

MR. NATHAN, M. P.

This gentleman will be a Candidate for re-election to the Commons for Victoria City.

The Late J. S. Macdonald.

In the death of John Sandfield Macdonald, announced by telegraph yesterday, Canada loses one of her oldest and ablest statesmen. The subject of these remarks was descended from an ancient Highland family who se tled in Glengarry, Canada, in 1786. He was born at St. Raphael (Ontario), 20th December, 1812, and was, consequently nearly sixty years of age. Called to the Bar of Upper Canada in 1840, he was created Queen's Counsel in 1849, and was Lieut-Colonel commanding the 3rd Battalion Stormont Militia. He was Solicitor-General for Upper Canada, from December, 1859, to November, 1861; Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Canada from August, 1852, to June, 1854; Attorney-General West from 2nd to 6th August, 1858; and again (in his own administration) holding during the same time the office of Minister of Militia Affairs, from May, 1862, to March, 1864, when he with his Ministry resigned office. He was appointed Attorney-General of the Province of Ontario, July 1867, and was Prime Minister of that Province till the last session of the Legislature, when his administration gave place to that of Blake-Mackenzie. He was elected to represent Glengarry in 1841, and sat for that county till 1847, since which he represented the town of Cornwall. A Roman Catholic in religion, and a moderate Reformer in politics, he took a prominent part in establishing those liberal institutions to which Canada so largely owes her present prosperity. During the past two years his health had been failing and his death will not have taken the country by surprise although it will have occasioned universal regret.

VALUABLE INVENTIONS.— Mr. Dewe, Chief P. O. Inspector of Canada, who is now in this city, is the inventor of several modes of securing mail matter and other valuables, which have lately come into general use. The Rivet Seal Lock fastens a mail-bag with a lead seal and staple so effectually that the slightest attempt at tampering with it is discovered. Each postoffice is furnished with seals stamped with its name, and wax is entirely superseded. The new system has been adopted in the mail service of the United States and Canada, and has just been introduced here. The self-registering padlock, by the same gentleman, has been adopted by the American Excise Officers. The lock registers as high as 31—one for each day of the month—and every time it is opened the register (through a minute glass "window" in the back) scores one. Any attempt to tamper with the register would only bring confusion and detection upon the perpetrator, as it is secured with a lead seal stamped and made in such a manner as to defy imitation. Another lock has been invented for the use of Excise Officers, which seems perfect in every detail. A new method for fastening bags of papers, by means of straps and rings, which entirely supersedes the use of twine (of which 50,000 lbs are used annually in the London Post-office) has also been patented and introduced by Mr. Dewe and is in use here. These inventions are of a thoroughly practical character and of great value, as they simplify the methods of effectually securing mail matter and reduce the expense.

BOARD OF EDUCATION—SIXTH MEETING.—The special meeting of the Board yesterday for the purpose of granting certificates of qualification to candidates, was attended by Messrs. Williams, Munro, Tolmie, Marvin, and the Superintendent. Various reasons prevented several of the Island and Mainland teachers from being present. Six certificates were, however, granted, after careful examination of the candidates in English Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, General and English History, Vocal Music, School Classification and Government, together with an essay on the subject of Education. Another certificate was granted without examination on certificates and testimonials submitted to the Board. The regular meeting will be held to-day as usual.

SMUGGLING.—A blue-jacket named Pinckney appeared in the Police Court yesterday to answer a charge of smuggling six yards of serge ashore from Her Majesty's ship Scout. He pleaded guilty and ignorance of the law. The Magistrate laid the case over to enable enquiries to be made as to where the serge came from.

DEATH OF A VETERAN EDITOR.—James Gordon Bennett, editor of the New York Herald, is dead. He was a Scotchman by birth and made his start in life by blackmailing wealthy citizens of New York. His age was about 80.

The First of the New Series of International Matches.

At 8 a. m. yesterday the omnibus containing the cricketers left for Colwood. The match commenced about 9:30 a.m., the Californians, represented by J. Peel and Faull, went to the wickets, to the bowling of Guerra and Howard. The only ones who made any stand were Fisher, 18; Reed, for 16; and Lawton, 10. The total was 65.

The Victorians were a little more fortunate, Rome scoring 30 and Pagden 10, Guerra, one splendid hit for 5. The total of their innings was 94.

The Californians in their second innings had made 61 runs for 5 wickets, T. O. Peel making 25 runs not out, and Reed 16 not out. The fielding was very good, considering the state of the ground, to which cause may be put down the number of byes on both sides. While the Victorians were in some misunderstanding arose and the Californians' umpire declined to act afterwards. His place was supplied by one of the California Club; the propriety of which, it is said, is not recognized by Lilly white.

The lunch supplied by Mr. Peatt for the cricketers is pronounced by all of them to have been excellent.

The Californians drove through Government street on their return from Colwood in a 'bus. They waved the American ensign and sang "God Save the Queen," and were heartily cheered by the people on the sidewalks as they passed.

The match will be concluded to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

HOW MR. WADDINGTON 'METHIS DEATH.' The late Mr. Alfred Waddington came to his death somewhat in the manner following: He had rooms at the Russell House, Ottawa, and had always expressed great dread of the small-pox, which last winter was quite epidemic in Canada. One afternoon about the middle of February, he was standing in the reception room of the Russell House, conversing with some railway magnates respecting his great Bute Inlet railway scheme, when a physician of Ottawa approached and seizing the old gentleman by both hands, shook them warmly, saying, 'I have just left the worst case of confluent small-pox I have ever seen.' Mr. Waddington instantly withdrew his hands from, (as it afterwards appeared) the infected grasp of the indiscreet medical man, and sat down, trembling violently. A few days afterwards, the poor gentleman was seized with the small-pox, which soon carried him off.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY NEAR SAN FRANCISCO—On the night of the 27th ult on Angel Island a soldier shot and instantly killed Emma Spohr, a girl 14 years of age, in a fit of jealousy. There was a ball given at Camp Reynolds for the benefit of non-commissioned officers and privates of Company H, about to leave the island. While the guests were at the supper table, Kimmel arose from his seat, and going to Emma put a pistol to her head and fired. She fell dead, and before the horror-stricken guests could prevent it, the murderer placed the weapon to his own head and fired, killing himself instantly.

FROM PUGET SOUND.—The steamer Alida Capt. John G. Parker, arrived from Olympia and way ports, at 10 o'clock last night with the undermentioned passengers and a small mail. She will sail again at 12 to-day: Mr and Mrs J C Nicholson, Mrs Morrison, Mrs Hurd, Mr and Mrs Breston, Col. Evans, Mrs Newland, Mrs Bucklin, Rev. Iser, Mrs Iser, Messrs Marks, Bucklin, Hanks, Vincent, Collymer, Eden, Mrs Steinberg, and 12 others.

DOWN A WELL—Truth is said to lie at the bottom of a well; which statement a valuable colt belonging to Rev. Mr. Macgregor tested to his heart's content on Saturday. In the course of his gambols he jumped into an open well in his pasture and when drawn out by a kind-hearted neighbor of his owner was kicking at death's door, and looked as if he had swallowed a very large dose of "truth" in a fluid form. Had there been a "bucket" in the well it is reasonable to suppose the little brute would have "kicked" it.

BOAT RACE.—The race between the Tyne and Amateur boats, rowed by boys, for $20 aside, took place last evening. The Tyne won by about 25 yards. The course was from the dredger around Deadman's Island and back to the dredger.

CEMETERY BOARD.—A meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Cemetery was held yesterday at the Land Office; but owing to the fact that the deeds of the land were still before the Executive Council, no business was transacted.

IT is now said that the reported destruction of the Newfoundland sealing fleet is false. With the exception of three vessels, most of the fleet has returned in safety.

BASE BALL.—A challenge from the Washington Club was sent over by the Alida last evening to the Olympics of this city, to play at Olympia on the 4th of July.

PUGET SOUND ITEMS.—New potatoes are in the market....The Waldron Troupe have been playing to excellent houses, and their performances are very highly praised by the press.....The barkentine Victor has made the round trip from Port Gamble to San Francisco and back, including delay at the latter port, in twenty-three days.

I. O. O. F.—Mr. A. H. Guild, Deputy District Grand Master, and Mr. John Wieler, District Deputy Grand Patriarch of British Columbia, have been re-appointed by the Grand Lodge of California.

THE steamer Emma, Capt. Rudlin, from Nanaimo on Sunday, reports the bark Czarewitch at the Wellington mine and the Aureola at the Nanaimo mine.

THE THISTLES—The City Corporation have determined to exterminate either the thistles or those who tolerate them about their premises. See the notice and act accordingly.

OWING to want of space we are obliged to compress our account of yesterday's cricket match.

ELECTORS, ATTETION!—Those who qualify on board and lodging or either of them, must re-register or lose the right to vote.

PROMOTION.—J. W. McKay, Esq, has been promoted to be a Chief Factor in the H. B. Company's service.

THE COMMONS.—Mr. Arthur Bunster, M. P. P., leaves this morning to canvass Cowichan District for the Commons.

India.

(From the London Times Correspondent.)

CALCUTTA, March 29th.

The following remarkable letter, which I have this moment received, has been addressed by the Ameer of Afghanistan to the Acting Viceroy:—

'After expressions of sorrow and affliction, be it known to your friendly heart that I have just been shocked to hear the terrible and mournful tidings of the death of the Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

'By this terrible and unforseen stroke my heart has been overwhelmed with grief and anguish, for it can scarce occur again in days so out of joint as these that the world will see another so universally beloved and esteemed for his many high and excellent qualities as him who is now in the spirit land.

"All great and wise men have ever regarded this transitory world as a resting place for a single night, or as an overflowing and changing stream, and never ceased to remind their fellows that they must pass beyond it, and leave all behind them. It is therefore incumbent on men not to fix their affections on perishable things during the course of their short lives, which are, as it were, a loan to them from above.

"Naught remains to the survivors and friends of him who is gone from among us but patience and resignation.

"The unvarying friendship and kindness displayed towards me by him who is now no more had induced me to determine, if the affairs of Afghanistan at the time permitted the step, to accompany His Excellency on his return to England, so that I might obtain the gratification of a personal interview with Her Majesty the Queen, and derive pleasure from travelling in the countries of Europe. Before the eternally predestined decrees, however, men must bow in silence.

"A crooked and perverse fate always interferes to prevent the successful attainment by any human being of his most cherished desires. What more can be said or written to express my grief and sorrow.

"It is my earnest wish that your Excellency, wherever you may be, will in future communicate to me accounts of your health, and inform me of your name and titles that I may be enabled to address my letters correctly."

The most curious fact in the letter is the assertion by the Ameer that it ha entered his head to go to England with the Viceroy. I fear he would have found his intention impracticable, but that he should think of the thing at all is a proof of the ascendency of Lord Mayo's character.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Eastern States.

WASHINGTON, June 1—The Senate passed the Tariff Bill as amended and then took up the Sundry Civil Expense Appropriation Bill, and shortly after adjourned.

CHICAGO, June 1—A Washington special says it is reported by Senators that their sources of information worth anything say that the Washington Treaty is dead. The Senators now talk of the Treaty as a thing of the past and only discuss the effect of the failure's power. The State Department is hopeful, and bases its belief upon the slender thread that in the cable transmission of the protocal there was a mistake made which would be remedied when the official transcript—forwarded by mail—shall have arrived.

An account of the freshet in the south-west of Missouri says the whole of the farms in the Valley of Specing River, Centre Creek, and other streams are washed away leaving nothing but rocd and gravel. Live stock of all kinds were drowned in large numbers. One hundred yards of Atlantic and Pacific Rail road track were washed away from its bed into the adjoining fields. The water was five feet high and is rolling down Spring River Valley leaving devastation and ruin behind.

ST LOUIS, May 31—Hon Col Taylor, Paymaster, U. S. A., absent on leave, was found yesterday morning shot through the head. The young man with whom he was last seen with has been arrested on suspicion.

NEW YORK, May 31—It is reported that Senator Trumbull, Ex-Senator Doolittle and C M Clay will speak at the Greeley Ratification meeting on Monday night.

CHICAGO, May 31—A Washington special says the shrewdest politicians are inclined to the opinion that neither Colfax nor Wilson will be nominated Vice President by the Philadelphia Convention; and that they will go to the Convention with such little support and with such strong opposition to each side that neither will succeed and a new man will be taken. Speaker Blaine is most prominently mentioned in this connection.

WASHINGTON, May 31—The Cabinet was 3 hours in session to-day, mainly on the relations with England. The Cabinet supported the President and Senate's position in relation to the Supplemental Article. The Government has received no dispatch from England to-day. Gentlemen in high positions in relation to the Supplemental Article say the Government has received no dispatch from England to-day, and openly express their fears of the failure of the Treaty.

A special from London, May 31st, states that on Thursday the Alabama negotiations were ended. All efforts to secure the agreement of the Governments on the Supplemental Article were definitely relinquished. On Saturday negotiations were reopened on the part of the British Government which gives color to the supposition that it has reconsidered its determination not to accept the Senate's amendment to the Supplemental Article, pointing to the present difficulty as the absence from the Article of any words which can be held as definitely indirect claims, and its failure to declare what class of claims are signified by the term indirect. It is thought that this may lead to the introduction under the title of direct claims, or claims which England would deem inadmissable.

WASHINGTON, May 30—Request for time for the more careful consideration of the Supplemental Article has been made by the British Government. This, if it means anything, must mean the postponement of the Geneva Conference, which should have met on the 15th inst

NEW YORK, May 31—The body of James Gordon Bennett will be preserved until the arrival of his children from Europe.

Flury, the absconding cashier of Limerick Bank, has surrendered himself to the authorities.

Miss Kellogg sings at Buckingham Palace on the 20th.

The Times states that there has never been any genuine agreement between England and America relative to indirect claims. It says we must consider the failure of the arbitration as inevitable, and we may thank the American Senate for this. Had it accepted the Supplemental Article without amendment, our position would have been awkward.

In the House of Lords, to-night, Earl Derby urged the Government to produce a copy of the Supplemental Article to the Treaty of Washington with U S Senate's Amendment. Granville replied that Congress would adjourn on Monday, that negotiations were not yet concluded, and that it was impossible for the Government to comply with the request. To questions put by Earl Grey, and Lords Cairns and Westbury as to the action of the Government, Granville declined with some asperity to reply.

In the House of Commons, in reply to Disraeli's question, Gladstone promised to give satisfactory answers when the Senate adjourned.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—The blood is the very essence of health and life. It furnishes the components of flesh, bone, muscle, nerve and integument. The stomach is the apparatus—the arteries the distributors, and the intestines the channels by which the waste matter is carried off. Upon the stomach and bowels these medecines act simultaneously. 25 cents per box or pot.

A Wholsome Stimulant that is Absolutely Pure.

Physicians thoughout the world agree as to the necessity of diffusive stimulants in medical practice, but complain, and with good reason, of the impossibility of obtaining them pure. The difficulty to be represented would be a serious one indeed, if the class of agents were limited to the adulterated liquors and wines of trade. It vanished, however, when the absolute purity and extraordinary restorative properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are taken into consideration. As a stimulant the article is absolutely free from everything objectionable; but this is only one of its recomendations. If it were nothing more than an excitant its effects would be fleeting, it might refresh and revive the system for a few minutes but could produce no permanent benefit. The stimulating elements of the Bitters is a means, not at end. The tonic, anti-bilious, depurative and aperient vegetable juices combined in the preparation are the agents that impart vigor and regularity to the weakened and disordered organization, the spirituous principle being chiefly useful in diffusing their influence through the system and otherwise facilitating their operation. Alcohol, even in its purest form, is not so much a medicine as a motive power, by which the specifics of the vegetable kingdom may be brought to bear upon the debilitated and disordered organs that require renovating, and it is this way that the pure essence of rye incorporated in Hostetter's Bitters increases the efficacy of the purely medical ingredients.

By Command,
GEO. A. WALKEM,
Chief Commissioner of Lands & Works

HOLLOWAY'S
TRADE H MARK
PILLS AND OINTMENT.
Every Man his own Physician.

CAUTION.

THE immense demand for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT has tempted unprincipled parties to counterfeit these valuable medicines.

In order to protect the public and ourselves, we have issued a new "Trade Mark," consisting of an Egyptian circle of a serpent, with the letter H in the centre. Every box of genuine HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT will have this trade mark on it; none are genuine without it.
